

TAFT WILL BE STATE'S CHOICE

Idea That La Follette Followers Will Bolt Republican Ticket Scoffed At.

FORMER MAJORITIES WILL BE CUT

Senatorial Fight Shows Other Candidates Are Afraid Of Stephenson And Would Seek To Compass His Downfall.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Milwaukee, Wis., July 14.—Notwithstanding the confidence which National Committee members and Congressmen have placed in La Follette, the idea that he will be the state's choice for the republican ticket is being scoffed at.

While a few days ago there was much talk going around that La Follette people were indifferent to carrying this state for Taft, there is nothing at hand upon which to charge that Senator La Follette desires to hand this state to the democratic presidential ticket.

It is quite generally accepted that Taft will have no such majority in Wisconsin as was given to McKinley eight years ago and to Roosevelt in 1904, when the republican tickets had in the neighborhood of 100,000 majorities, people who usually are on the inside with the La Follette leaders.

True, he desired the defeat of Taft in the republican national convention, but only because to head off the leading candidate would give some hope of his own nomination as a dark horse candidate. After the nomination was made, La Follette's plan immediately became to continue his march with the campaign of 1916 as his goal.

This involves the assumption that in the event of the election of Taft this fall he will get the usual courtesy of a second nomination.

In the coming campaign, Senator La Follette, his friends assert, will support the republican ticket and platform, but he will abandon nothing of his position as to physical valuation of railroad property and other features which he sought to incorporate in the Chicago platform. And while he is speaking for the republican national ticket, he will do a little missionary work in his own interests by explaining what he believes are things necessary to be done in the way of national reforms.

The candidates for the republican nomination for United States senator have early indicated their fear of Senator Stephenson, for they are complaining that he ought not to be in the race in view of his announcement that he would seek only the two years remaining of the term of former Senator Spooner. To their accusation of bad faith, Senator Stephenson has responded that they are trying to make him pay a debt upon which he was never taken up. He declares that he proposed to them in a conference at the Avenue Hotel here that they allow him to have the short term election without a contest and that then he would be a candidate for no more and leave the field to them. He declares that they refused, that he had to win the little short term, to which he thought he was fairly entitled, but that they having refused he cannot be bound by his proposal which they turned down.

Milwaukee people who gossip of politics declare that the promise will not cut much of a figure against Stephenson now, because promises made in a campaign that the aspirant wants only one term are very frequently forgotten, and particularly because the old mill-hound was compelled to go through such a hard fight to get the runoff of Spooner's term, and also because of the fact that he seems to have been thrown down by La Follette.

CONVENTION BOOKED TO OPEN TOMORROW

State Prohibition Convention Closes and National Will Open Tomorrow.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Columbus, O., July 14.—Ohio prohibitionists concluded the business of their state convention today. Tomorrow morning the national convention will be called to order in Memorial hall. Practically all of the delegates have arrived. The last of the big contingents came in early today. The crowd of visitors is one of the largest ever entertained in Columbus.

The name of Stephen Wright of Georgia, seems to be the most prominently mentioned in connection with the presidential nomination. The next strongest candidate for the head of the ticket appears to be Frederick Wheeler, of Los Angeles, who is being backed by many of the western delegations. Numerous other candidates are receiving attention, however, and the contest is an open race in the broadest sense of the term. State delegations meet this afternoon and evening to organize and to discuss the situation. Tonight the oratorical contest of the Intercollegiate Prohibition association will be a centre of attraction.

A full state ticket was nominated. It is headed by Aaron S. Watkins of Ada, for governor.

The convention today adopted a platform attacking the republican and democratic parties for failing to recognize the liquor question as a leading issue and says that while in its thought the enforcement of prohibition is not possible except by the party in sympathy with the law, and that "prohibitionists should co-operate with other temperance forces to get the local temperance conditions."

INTEREST AROUSED BY STATE FIGHTS

State Fight in Indiana Will Over-shadow Presidential Campaign This Fall.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

The fight for state office bids fair to overshadow the presidential campaign in Indiana this fall. The great battle will be for control of the legislature. If the republicans win, a great majority of the counties may exercise local option. If the democrats are victorious, there probably will be no appreciable change in the present laws governing the sale of liquor.

Four Candidates.

The bullet has been made up for the primary election in Indiana three weeks hence. Four parties have named candidates for governor. The republican aspirants are Governor Charles S. Deneen, who is a candidate for re-nomination, and former Governor Richard Yates. Among the democratic candidates for the head of the ticket, of whom there are five, is former vice-President Adlai B. Stevenson.

Minnesota Candidate. Jacob F. Jacobson, the republican candidate for governor of Minnesota, is a native of Norway and settled in Minnesota in 1871. He took an interest in politics before he had been in America a year and in 1875, two years after his arrival, he was elected auditor of his county. In 1889 he was elected a member of the Minnesota legislature and was several times re-elected. Six years ago he ran for state auditor, but was defeated by a small majority. Two years ago he sought the republican nomination for governor, but was defeated in the convention.

BIG BARBACUE WAS FEATURE OF TODAY

Thirty-Five Thousand Elks Attend Big Feed in Dallas, Texas, Today.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Dallas, Texas, July 14.—The Elks grand lodge was in session today, but so far as the great mass of visitors was concerned the business of the gathering and all else paled into insignificance in comparison with the great Mexican dinner and barbecue at the Fair Grounds. These were advertised to be the best, heaviest and biggest affair of its kind ever attempted in America, and for once the promise of the publicity agent was fulfilled.

A few figures will serve to convey some idea of the magnitude of this great feast, to which everyone wearing the familiar insignia of the order of Elks was made welcome. The dinner was ready shortly after the noon hour and the indications then were that fully 35,000 people would be served before the feast was ended. The diners were accommodated at two tables, each 700 feet in length, which were arranged in the largest exhibition buildings at the Fair Grounds. The preparation of the feast was superintended by Professor Wiley George of Elms, who has a national reputation in the barbecue line. Seven tons of beef and two tons of mutton were provided. The heaves were roasted in a pit filled with 40 cords of half seasoned hickory, ash and oak wood. The operation of roasting occupied 24 hours.

In addition to the tons of beef and mutton the menu comprised 25,000 loaves of bread and 12 barrels of pickles. For the child, which was served as a side dish, 1500 pounds of condensed milk and 1600 pounds of beans were used. The diners were served by 300 waiters. During the progress of the dinner an attractive programme of minstrel and vaudeville entertainment was carried out.

ORDER TRIAL TRIP FOR MISSISSIPPI

Battleship Mississippi will have Try-out on New England Coast This Week.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., July 14.—The Navy Department has issued orders for the new battleship Mississippi to leave Newport today and during the next few days she will have her official trial of the New England coast. The naval experts who accompanied the big battleship from the yards of her builders at Philadelphia to Newport, are confident that she will be able to fulfill all of her contract conditions.

The Mississippi was built at a cost of about $5,000,000, and few great battleships have ever achieved such a record. She is a ship of 13,000 tons, with a waterline of 275 feet, 77 feet wide and with a mean gross draft of 27 feet. Her contract calls for a speed of 17 knots. The Mississippi is a sister ship of the Idaho, which was built by Cramp's of Philadelphia.

MOYER CANNOT SEE MUCH GOOD IN A LABOR PLANK

Head Of The Western Federation Of Miners Talks On The Sending Of Troops To Goldfield.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Denver, July 14.—President Moyer in his annual report condemns in strong language the sending of troops into the Goldfield district during the strike, by President Roosevelt. Referring to the inclusion plank of the democratic national platform, which includes the right of workers to organize, he says:

"I have no any assurance or reason to expect the interpretation of these laws favorable to laborers if they have been attacked? When we remember that federal judges by their interpretation of the laws have vested the supreme power of the executive of the state and that no court would inquire into his acts when the supreme court of the land has so constructed the laws as to make it a crime for labor to organize, what have we to hope for by placing further laws on the statute?"

For the first time in the history of the organization the convention of the federation of miners was thrown open to the entire public today and all the sessions until the final adjournment will be made public.

START SHIPMENTS OF BIG HOGS TODAY

First Large Consignment of Rock County Livestock Off For Chicago.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

The Evansville cattle buyers who have been working in this vicinity for some time sent out a shipment of about a carload and a half of hogs today. In all about twenty hogs were received, one of which, a hog brought by O. N. Coon of Rock Prairie, weighed seven hundred and seventy-five pounds. This was the heaviest hog that has been shipped out of here for some time. The rest of the hogs brought in weighed four hundred and fifty pounds to the hog. The rest of the shipment made today probably averaged three hundred pounds.

Until the Evansville buyers started in buying, not many cattle or animals of any sort were brought to be shipped away, but since their coming there has been more or less buying and they have made shipments every Tuesday. It is expected there will not be many hogs for the market for some time yet as the price of corn is so high that the farmers can not afford to feed it and the barley is not yet ready for use as a fattener. Most of the hogs shipped today were about two years old.

THE GROWTH OF GOVERNMENT TENDS TO REPUBLICANISM

By Norman.

The republican form of government is more popular and has a firmer hold on the people today than ever before in the world's history. There are at present 24 republics, most of these being South America. All of the 24 are included in the section of the world shown on the map above. There are approximately 181,000,000 people today under the republican form of government, in which government they participate. This is over one-fifth of the entire world's population. The United States alone, with its 80,000,000 people represents nearly one-tenth of the entire population of the world. President Fallières of France rules over one-twenty-fifth of the world's population. President Poincaré of France rules over one-thirty-sixth of the world's population, and so on down to the insignificant black republic of Liberia, with its 1,500 of the world's population. It is interesting to note the salaries paid to the various rulers.

They are as follows: France, $240,000; United States, $50,000; Bolivia, $21,000; Chile, $18,000; Ecuador, $15,000; Mexico, $30,000; Paraguay, $10,000; Argentina, $30,000; Dominican, $24,000; Haiti, $24,000; Peru, $24,000; Switzerland, $1,000.

Of all the great republics the United States stands out as the largest in area, population, and in many respects has the most advanced ideas in government. President Diaz of Mexico is undoubtedly the most phenomenal ruler the world has ever known. He is a strong man and a strong leader, realizing full well the conditions he had to meet in Mexico with a population of erratic temperament and little education. Diaz assumed control with an iron hand and has continued in office during the past nine years an absolute monarch, though elected by the people. He has won their entire respect and could at any time have been king had he so wished. This has never been any temptation to him and he is now preparing to turn over the reins of government to his successor. Diaz realized his successor will have much trouble in controlling the people, and therefore he desires to be on hand to assist in every way possible. Such an example of devotion to country and people with absolutely no selfish motive, is seldom seen.

Switzerland is one of the most unique republics of the world. Situated in the mountains and of an independent race thoroughly capable of governing themselves, Switzerland has not with pronounced success. President H. E. Brenner of Switzerland is very popular with his countrymen and is a remarkable man.

Eleven of the world's republics are south of the Panama canal, in South America. Of these President Poincaré of France is the most important. Brazil has an area second only to the United States among the republics and a population of 4,600,000. France and the United States being the only republics larger than Brazil.

They are as follows:

France, $240,000; United States, $50,000; Bolivia, $21,000; Chile, $18,000; Ecuador, $15,000; Mexico, $30,000; Paraguay, $10,000; Argentina, $30,000; Dominican, $24,000; Haiti, $24,000; Peru, $24,000; Switzerland, $1,000.

Of all the great republics the United States stands out as the largest in area, population, and in many respects has the most advanced ideas in government. President Diaz of Mexico is undoubtedly the most phenomenal ruler the world has ever known. He is a strong man and a strong leader, realizing full well the conditions he had to meet in Mexico with a population of erratic temperament and little education. Diaz assumed control with an iron hand and has continued in office during the past nine years an absolute monarch, though elected by the people. He has won their entire respect and could at any time have been king had he so wished. This has never been any temptation to him and he is now preparing to turn over the reins of government to his successor. Diaz realized his successor will have much trouble in controlling the people, and therefore he desires to be on hand to assist in every way possible. Such an example of devotion to country and people with absolutely no selfish motive, is seldom seen.

SHOT DOWN BY MOTHER-IN-LAW

DR. SIMPSON OF NEW YORK IS DANGEROUSLY WOUNDED.

CLIMAX OF LONG TROUBLE

Dentist Is Victim of Woman's Bullet
While Standing Where He Killed
Her Husband Two Years Ago.

Northport, N. Y., July 14.—Standing within a few feet of the spot where, a little more than two years ago, he shot and killed his father-in-law, Dr. James Weddell Simpson, a dentist of New York, was shot and perhaps mortally wounded Monday by his mother-in-law, Mrs. Hartley T. Horner, the woman he made a widow.

Dr. Simpson's wife, from whom he has been estranged for many months, was near when the shot was fired, but she did not witness the shooting. Upon learning that it was her husband who had been wounded, she refused to go near him and Dr. Simpson had to crawl to a house 200 feet away to have his wound attended to. Mrs. Horner was arrested later and held in $5,000 bail, while Dr. Simpson, with the assistance of two friends, made his way to Roosevelt hospital in New York. The bullet lodged in his liver and an immediate operation was performed to take it out. The doctors said that Dr. Simpson has only a small chance of recovery.

Story Told by Dentist.
Statements from Simpson and from Mrs. Horner as to the circumstances attending the shooting disagree. The dentist says that he had received word that his wife intended to sue him for a divorce and that he went to the Horner home to talk with her about it. He says he rang the doorbell and upon receiving no response peered through the door pane. He saw Mrs. Horner, he says, and called to her to open the door.

Then, Dr. Simpson says, Mrs. Horner grabbed up a revolver and shot him. The bullet entered his body above the abdomen and he fell back against the doorbell. A second shot was fired at him, he claims, but the bullet went wild.

Mrs. Horner's Version.
Mrs. Horner does not deny that she did the shooting, but she claims justification. Through her lawyer, Rowland Miles, she said that Dr. Simpson had several times called at the house and that his visits were unwelcome. When he came Monday, she says, she ordered him away and when he refused to go she took up a revolver and shot at him.

Constable Hanson, who arrested Simpson in 1905, when the dentist shot Mrs. Horner's husband, arrested Mrs. Horner Monday evening. She was charged with felonious assault. After Justice Hawkins had fixed bail at $5,000 Mrs. Simpson, the prisoner's daughter, qualified as bondsman, and secured the release of her mother. Justice Hawkins set the hearing for next Wednesday.

Climax of Unhappy Events.
This second tragedy at the Horner home is only another chapter in a series of unhappy domestic events of the last few years. The shooting of Hartley T. Horner by Dr. Simpson aroused the countryside in December, 1905, and when the dentist was put on trial his wife took the witness stand against him. Mrs. Horner also gave damaging testimony against her son-in-law. Dr. Simpson was going through the manual of arms with a shotgun, when he accidentally shot his father-in-law.

After the verdict of acquittal Dr. Simpson resumed the practice of dentistry. He opened a suite of offices on Fifth avenue, New York, but he had lost many of his clients and of late, it is said, he has sought financial aid.

ELKS CONVENE AT DALLAS.

Texas City Alive with Marching Clubs and Bands.

Dallas, Tex., July 14.—The reunion and annual convention of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks began formally Monday night. Throughout the day and evening the streets were lined with marching clubs and brass bands, those attracting the greater attention being Los Angeles, Detroit and Austin, Tex.

In the afternoon nearly 1,000 persons sat down to a typical southern dinner in the Machinery hall at the fair grounds, given to members of the grand lodge and their families. Detroit and Los Angeles are apparently the only two candidates for the 1909 convention. It was but a few hours after daybreak that the steam siren of the Los Angeles delegation, placed on the roof of the Southland hotel, began to tell the gathered thousands that Los Angeles sought the next convention. In almost every place where a banner could be stuck up there appears a big sign, "Life Is Worth Living in Detroit."

RIPPLES OF MIRTH

Where Is It?

"Sir," began the tramp, as he entered the lawyer's office on the fifth floor, "have you any coal to carry up?"
"No sir. This building is steam-heated in the winter."
"Do you want to send out after any coal?"
"I never use it."
"Want me to take out a 10-dollar bill and get changed?"
"I haven't had a 10-dollar bill in three months."
"I'm willing to scrub the floor," the janitor went to the door.
"I write a pretty good hand."
"I have nothing to write."
"See here," said the caller, "there must be something around your house I can do."
"I have sold my home and am boarding."
"Can't you use me as a witness in a lawsuit?"
"I have none on hand."
"Want anything to eat?"
"No. The only man I wanted looked died last week."
"Just I take your mail to the post-office?"
"I haven't written a letter in a week."
"But don't tell me you can't give me 20 cents."
"But I'll have to. My laundry just went back because I couldn't pay for it."
"And right here in this paper," said the tramp as he struck his breast, "is an article saying that times have improved so you can get out of the woods if you have faith! Say, hold me in your arms and let me starve to death!"

Something Else.

They were waiting on a corner for the street car when the man with the folded newspaper turned to the man with the eye glasses and queried:
"Sir, how do you like the Denver nomination?"
"That" was the response.
"Going to be a strong candidate, don't you think?"
"Um!"
"And I shouldn't be in the least surprised to see him elected."
"Um!"
"In fact, I find lots of people who think it's time for a change. Perhaps you think that way yourself?"
"Um!"
"At any rate, it's going to be a hot campaign from now on, and, of course, every lover of his country will be interested."
"Um!"
"As to Roosevelt, sir—as to Roosevelt, while I have no particular fault to find with him—"
"Are you speaking to me, sir?" asked the "that" man as he suddenly woke up.
"Speaking to you? Why, I've been talking to you for the last half hour."
"About what?"
"About the Denver nomination."
"Oh—piff! I've got a ball on my leg as big as a tennis, a lawsuit coming off this afternoon and my wife packed up this morning and left the house. Talk to me in a soothing way or shut up!"

Ad to Young Men.
If you are inclined to become a husband, by all means select a wife from a family in which there are numerous daughters. In such a case the girl is much less likely to be spoiled, and consequently is calculated to make a better wife. Then you will render yourself immensely popular with the parents, who find it extremely difficult to get rid of a number of girls. As only daughter is often a she-devil.

South African Agriculture.
If our colonial producers were alive to their own interests, they would refuse to be carried away by the specious arguments of the high tariffists. Rather would they assist in spreading the vital truth that better methods of distribution will be far more efficacious than increased protection in putting South African agriculture on a sound footing.—Diamond Fields Advertiser.

RELEASED ON DEATH MISSION.

Italian Lever's Vengeance Aided by a Jailer.

Giuseppe Seroa, a workman, aged 25, was arrested some weeks ago at Bari, Italy, for a burglary in which he was implicated and sentenced to four months' imprisonment.

He spent the first part of his imprisonment in counting the days until his release, when he would be married to his sweetheart, who had sworn that she would never forsake him.

But one day the jailer told him that the marriage banns of the girl and another man had been published.

Seroa was terribly upset, and declared that he would rather see the girl dead than married to anyone else.

The jailer later agreed that he was right, and after some hesitation he acceded to the prisoner's request to let him go and kill her.

Seroa swore solemnly that he would not tarry an instant longer than was necessary for the deed, and the jailer released him to fulfill the noble duty of a lover.

Seroa returned to prison a couple of hours later. He had stabbed the girl dead, and was content to await his own further punishment. The jailer has been arrested.

APPEAL TO VANITY SUCCEEDED.

Idea of Church Worker Has Greatly Increased Collections.

Here is a story of a church worker who stands a pretty good show of some day becoming secretary of the United States treasury. He serves in a church that is popular with young men. Shortly after he assumed the duties of usher there was an apparent increase in the general collections. At the same time it was noticed that the young men who attended church singly or in pairs were seated, whenever it was possible, in a pew where there was at least one good-looking girl. At first it was thought that the circumstances might indicate a possible connection on the young man's part with a matrimonial agency, but that suggestion he denied indignantly.

"If you'll just watch the collections," he said, "you'll know why I seat them so. I've kept an eye on those co-educational pews and I find that any man will contribute twice as much money to the church when there is a young woman sitting beside him to see how much he gives. Propinquity may in some such cases promote matrimony, but that is not my lookout. It is the collections I am interested in."

Good Idea—Pass It On!

A Brooklyn mother says she trains her children by talking to their subconscious souls while they are asleep. If you find this works well with the children, ladies, try it on your husbands.

Singing Pigeons.

The queer Chinese change pigeons into song birds by fastening whistles to their breasts. The wind of their flight then causes a weird and plaintive music that is seldom silenced in the pigeon-haunted cities of Peking and Canton.

The Belgians, great pigeon flyers, fasten whistles beneath the wings of valuable racing carriers, asserting that the shrill noise is a sure protection against hawks and other birds of prey.

As a similar protection, roods, emitting an odd wailing sound, are fixed to the tail feathers of the dispatch-bearing pigeons of the German army. —Philadelphia Bulletin.

A Boat in a Knapsack.

A Servian named Morchep has devised what he terms "a boat in a knapsack" for army purposes. The boat is composed of linen rendered impermeable by a coating of rubber. It is provided with oars, which fold into each other to the size of an ordinary walking stick, and a cork seat, which also serves to keep it taut when open. The model can accommodate one person only, but larger ones may be made on the same plan for the conveyance of troops and baggage when crossing rivers. Morchep's invention has been tried on the Rhine by naval experts, who speak of it in high terms.

Her Trouble.

Old Mrs. Smith was a chronic complainer and was constantly sending for the family physician and giving him a list of her fancied ailments. He always listened quite patiently, but was getting a little tired of hearing the same things over and over.

One day when the old lady considered herself in an unusually bad way she sent for the doctor, and, after going over the usual list, ended by saying: "Really, doctor, I do not know what in the world is wrong with me. I can neither lay nor eat."

The doctor looked at her a moment, then said in a solemn tone: "Madam, you must be a rooster."

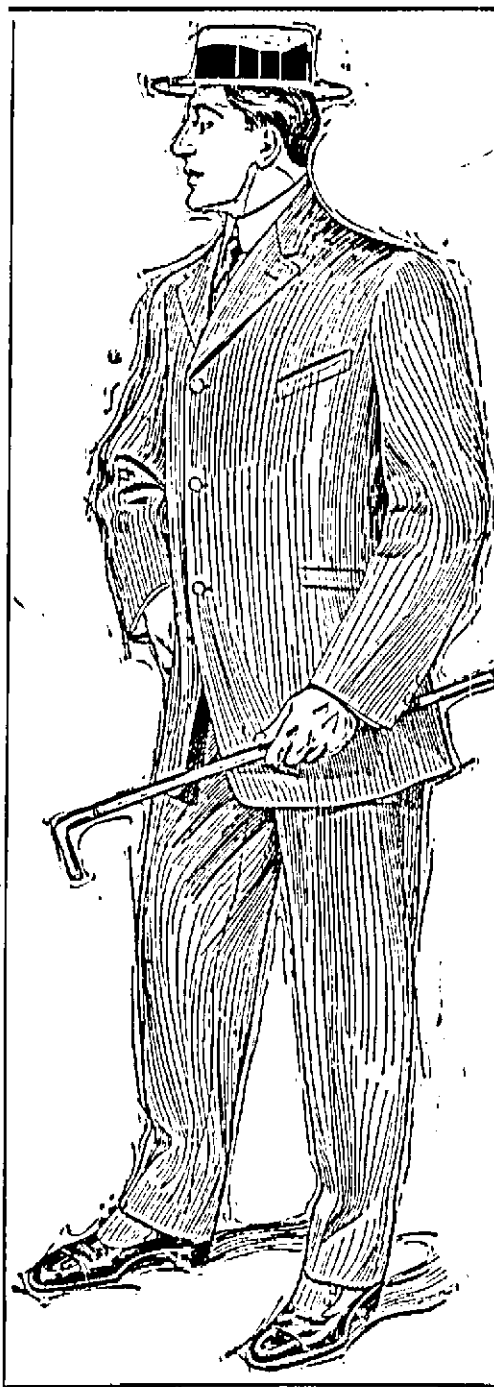

Work Uplifts.

All business and all work should lift up, and not hold down; it should make free, and not enslave; it should ennoble, and not degrade. It is as honorable to make shoes or anchors as it is to paint pictures or write books. The shoemaker should learn the secret through his work of finding the sandals of manhood for his own feet. The blacksmith should learn, through the making of anchors for his great ships, to find the anchor that is to hold his own soul to the truth amid the storms of life.—Rev. J. W. Lee, D. D.

Ask the Folks Next Door

Ask your next-door neighbor what she thinks of Van Camp's Pork and Beans. Then do just as she advises about using them yourself.

We refer our case to anyone who ever used Van Camp's.

Ask how Van Camp's compare with home-baked beans—compare with other brands.

There are millions of people who know this, and some of them live next door. Ask and they'll tell you why Van Camp's command such an enormous sale.

Or learn for yourself—learn from a ten-cent can. See if you can go back to home-baked beans after once trying Van Camp's.

Those not yet using Van Camp's Beans simply don't know what they miss.

Perhaps they are clinging to home-baked beans—mushy and broken. Beans that are crisp on the top and half-baked in the middle.

Perhaps they are eating very few beans, because such beans are not appealing. Or, perhaps they realize that such beans don't digest. That's why they ferment and form gas.

Those people are losing one of the best foods in the world—and one of the cheapest—simply because they don't know how good baked beans can be.

One can of Van Camp's will serve to alter their whole idea of baked beans.

Van Camp's

BAKED WITH TOMATO SAUCE

PORK AND BEANS

Now is the time to know Van Camp's. You are looking for ready-cooked dishes—this is the queen of them all. So please ask some user, or try them yourself. You are missing too much—don't wait another day.

It is not even economical to bake your beans at home. Economy lies in serving beans so good that your people will want them often.

Beans are 84% nutriment. Their food value exceeds the food value of meat. Yet they cost but a fraction as much.

Van Camp's will save their whole cost, three times over, in the cutting down of your meat bills.

For just the same reason, Van Camp's are far cheaper than ready-baked beans that cost less.

We buy only the choicest of Michigan beans, and have them picked over by hand. We use only the whitest, the plumpest, the fullest-grown. All others are discarded.

The result is, we could buy several bushels of some beans for the price of one bushel of ours.

Three Sizes: 10, 15 and 20 cents per can

Of Interest To Women.

To such women as are not seriously out of health, but who have exacting duties to perform, either in the way of household cares or in social duties and functions, which seriously tax their strength, as well as nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proved a most valuable supporting tonic and invigorating nerve. Its timely use, much serious sickness and suffering may be avoided. The operating table and the surgeon's knife would be unnecessary in such cases. The "Favorite Prescription" has proved a great boon to expectant mothers by preparing the system for the coming of baby, thereby rendering childbirth safe, easy, and almost painless.

Clear in mind, please that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite naturally averse, because of the uncertainty as to their composition and harmless character, but is a medicine of known composition, a full list of all its ingredients being printed, in plain English, on every bottle wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-alcoholic in its composition, chemically pure, free from glycerine (taking the place of the commonly used alcohol, in its make-up). In this connection it may not be out of place to state that the "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce is the only medicine put up for the cure of women's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, and sold through druggists, all the ingredients of which have the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice, and that too as remedies for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is recommended.

A little book of these endorsements will be sent to any address, post-paid, and absolutely free if you request same by postal card or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a cure for constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. Easy to take, easy, easy.

We are sorry to note Rev. and Mrs. Arnold are suffering with the measles.

Where is the Safest Place in the House During a Thunder Storm?

This may surprise you, but at night the safest place is sleeping in an iron or brass bed.

To stand by a metal bed is very dangerous, for you are taller than the bed, by lying in it you are as the bed extends above and below you, and the current will not leave the bed to pass through you, but the walls above the bed and the floor beneath will be tipped to pieces.

During the day the safest place is in the center of the room away from the stove. Open doors and windows cut no figure in lightning does not come through doors and windows as many people suppose.

During this hot weather lightning storms are very frequent and no one can tell just when his own home or barn is liable to be struck and burned to the ground entailing the loss of stock, property and often of life. In these days when the copper cable rods offer absolute protection it is almost criminal to neglect it. The conditions which make lightning possible are now thoroughly understood and the methods of preventing lightning are just as well understood.

In its "cell" have an electric machine which is manufactured by Dodd & Struthers, the famous lightning rod manufacturers, which produces a pulsating lightning storm. This machine demonstrates fully how lightning strikes a house and also how it is impossible to strike a house that has been properly rodged. If you will call when in the city, I'll be glad to explain the matter to you and to produce a lightning storm. I will also show you the famous Dodd & Struthers soft copper rods which have won awards at all state exhibitions. There are many imitations, but the original is by far the best. Talk it over with me before you buy. Get my prices as I can satisfy you. I just finished rodging one of the largest barns in the county.

LITTLE IS DOING IN TOBACCO THESE DAYS

Only a few of the local tobacco dealers are shipping out any tobacco at all and they are sending out only small quantities. The new tobacco is growing fine this weather and the plants are doing splendidly.

HIGHEST PRAISE.

Some Janesville Citizens Grow Enthusiastic on the Subject.

The praise of the public is merit's just reward. Nothing in modern times has received the praise accorded "The Little Conqueror."

Of some kinds of praise we are skeptical. We doubt the praise of strangers. The highest praise for Janesville people is hearty expression from Janesville people.

Don's Kidney Pills are endorsed in Janesville.

No better proof of merit can be had. Here's a case of it. We have plenty like it.

Mrs. U. F. Jones, of 157 Western Ave., Janesville, Wis., says: "I was not free from attacks of backache for a single day during several years past. I used so many remedies without getting any relief that I came to the conclusion that nothing would help me and stopped trying. I went about all bent over, could not straighten up at all and had a dull pain across the loins and a feeling of weakness that made it hard for me even to rise from a chair. At night I would awaken with the feeling that a great weight was breaking my back, and anyone who has suffered from kidney trouble will know what torture I endured. Finally I saw Don's Kidney Pills advertised and wondered if there was really any use of trying another remedy, but seeing them recommended by people in Janesville I procured a box at the People's Drug Co. and began using them. Gradually I regained strength and the pains and aches finally disappeared. Since I have discontinued their use I have not had an attack of backache nor any symptom of kidney trouble, and I believe Don's Kidney Pills worthy of all the praise that I can give them."

SALVATION ARMY HAD VERY LARGE MEETING

Last Evening's Gathering Was Well Attended—Colonel Marshall Was Present.

The Salvation Army special meeting which was held last night at No. 4 West Milwaukee street, was a grand success and the people crowded around the open air meeting like bees around a hive. The hall was well filled and the people seemed intensely interested, as Colonel Marshall of Chicago enrolled six new members as soldiers of the local corps, and gave three beautiful bibles away to the Lord. You could have heard a pin drop as the Colonel took the little children in his arms, as Jesus did, and said: "Suffer the little children to come unto me and I will bless them, for such is the kingdom of heaven." Mark 10:14.

The colored and brigadier were delighted with the progress of the work in this corps and the colonel hopes to have the pleasure of another visit to beautiful Janesville before Christmas. They wish us to thank the press and other kind friends for the great and lively interest they have taken in the Salvation Army work in this city.

May God help and bless and save many precious souls in Janesville, is the constant prayer of Capt. and Mrs. Fleming, officers in charge.

COPYRIGHT, 1908, BY DORR, MEAD & COMPANY

How far a man's natural inclination toward evil may carry him, despite the fact that his wrong-doing involves the wrecking of the happiness of his only son, is well shown in this story of Chicago, the Philippines and New York. The tale is not at all of evil, however. In it figure also love and romance, daring and danger, patriotism and the self-sacrificing if mistaken devotion of the Filipino to his country's cause. Our narrative is essentially one of modern times, and its characters or their originals walk the streets of American cities today, but their actions and the story of their loves and hates recall with distinct force the scenes and persons depicted by Dickens. Especially is this true of Elias Droom, the elderly lawyer's clerk, who is worthy of comparison with any one to be found in the pages of the English master.

CHAPTER I.

It was a bright, clear afternoon in the late fall that pretty Miss Cable drove up in her trap and waited at the curb for her father to come forth from his office in one of Chicago's tallest buildings. The crisp, caressing wind that came up the street from the lake put the pink into her smooth cheeks, but it did not disturb the brown hair that crowned her head. Well groomed and graceful, she sat straight and sure upon the box, her gloved hand grasping the yellow reins firmly and confidently. Miss Cable looked neither to right nor to left, but at the tip of her thoroughbred's ears. Slender and tall and very aristocratic she appeared, her profile alone visible to the passerby. After a very few moments' waiting in her trap the smart young woman became impatient. A severe little pucker settled upon her brow, and not once, but many times, her eyes turned to the broad entrance across the sidewalk. She had telephoned to her father earlier in the afternoon, and he had promised faithfully to be ready at 4 o'clock for a spin up the drive behind Spartan. At three minutes past 4 the pucker made its first appearance, and now, several minutes later, it was quite distressing. Never before had he kept her waiting like this. She was conscious of the fact that at least a hundred men had stared at her in the longest ten minutes she had ever known. From the bottom of a very hot heart she was beginning to resent this scrutiny when a tall young fellow swung around a nearby corner and came up with a smile so full of delight that the dainty pucker left her brow as the shadow flies from the sunshine. His hat was off and poised gallantly above his head, his right hand reaching up to clasp the warm little ten one outstretched to meet it.

"I knew it was you long before I saw you," these huge buildings, you know. It's impossible to look over their tops. I stiffly knew you were here, that's all." "You're romantic, even though you are a bit silly," she cried gayly. "Pray, how could you know?" "Simplest thing in the world. Rightly told me he had seen you and that you seemed to be in a great rage. He dared me to venture into your presence, and that's why I'm here."

"What a hopelessly commonplace explanation! Why did you not leave me to think that there was really something psychic about it? Logic is so discouraging to one's conceits. I'll be a very disagreeable humor today," she said, in fine despair. "I don't believe it," he disputed graciously. "But I am," she insisted, smiling brightly. His heart was leaping high—so high that it filled his eyes. "Everything has gone wrong with me today. It's pretty trying to have to wait in front of a big office building for fifteen minutes. Every instant I expect a policeman to come up and order me to move on. Don't they arrest people for blocking the street?"

"Yes, and put them in awful, rat swarming dungeons over to Dearborn avenue. Poor Mr. Cable, he should be made to suffer severely for his wretched conduct. The idea of—" "Don't you dare to say anything mean about dad," she warned. "But he's the cause of all the trouble. He's never done anything to make you happy or—" "Stop! I take it all back. I'm in a perfectly adorable humor. It was dreadfully mean of me to be half angry with him, wasn't it? He's in there now working his dear old brain to pieces, and I'm out here with no brain at all," she said ruefully.

To the ingenuous youth such an appeal to his gallantry was well nigh irresistible, and for a moment it seemed as if he would yield to the temptation to essay a brilliant contradiction, but his wife came to his rescue, for, quickly realizing that not only were the frowning rocks of offense to be avoided, but likewise the danger of blundering helplessly about in the inviting quicksands of humanity, he preserved silence, wise young man that he was, and trusted to his eyes to express an eloquent refutation. At last, however, something seemed to occur to him. A smile broke on his face. "You had a stupid time last night," he hazarded.

"What makes you think so?" "I know who took you in to dinner." The eyes of the girl narrowed slightly at the corner.

"Hello, Graydon! How are you?" asked, and through the young man's brain there flashed the remark of his fair companion. "He's in there now, working his dear old brain to pieces."

"I'm sorry to have kept you waiting, Jane," said Cable, crossing to the curb. "Hello, Graydon! How are you?" His voice was sharp, crisp and louder than the occasion seemed to demand, but it was natural with him. Years of life in an engine cab do not serve to mellow the tone of the human voice, and the habit is too strong to be overcome. There was no polish to the tones as they issued from David Cable's lips. He spoke with more than ordinary regard for the queen's English, but it was because he never had neglected it. It was characteristic of the man to do a thing as nearly right as he knew how in the beginning and to do it the same way until a better method presented itself.

"Very well, thank you, Mr. Cable, except that Jane has been abusing me because you were not here to—" "Don't you believe a word he says, dad," she cried.

"Oh, if the truth isn't in me, I'll subside," laughed Graydon. "Nevertheless you've kept her waiting, and it's only reasonable that she should abuse somebody."

"I am glad you were here to receive it. It saves my gray hairs."

"Unhappily" was Miss Cable's simple comment as her father took his place beside her.

"Oh, please drive on, Jane," said the young man, his admiring eyes on the girl who grasped the reins afresh and straightened like a soldier for inspection. "I must run around to the University club and watch the score of the Yale-Harvard game at Cambridge. It looks like Harvard, hang it all! Great game, they say."

We Pay One Ad-Writer $1,000 Per Week

Mr. Claude C. Hopkins is now permanently at the head of our copy department. His salary is $1,000 per week. No fact, perhaps, can better show how far we go to bring results to our clients.

Mr. Hopkins commands the highest salary ever paid in advertising, because he brings the best results. He has made more money for advertisers, in more different lines, than any other man has done.

For twenty years, scores of the greatest successes have been due to his copy, and schemes. His supremacy as a salesman in print, is today undisputed. Now all of the copy which we prepare for our clients is under his supervision.

This copy department is the expensive part of our business.

We spend on it what other great agencies spend on soliciting. It is filled with able men—men with remarkable records.

Men whom we have picked out, in the course of years, by the brilliant results we have seen them accomplish. And we want more of them. No concern will pay more for men of proved ability—men whose records show exceptional results.

Yet this department is not an expense—neither to us nor our clients.

We handle advertising on the usual agent's commission.

And that commission is paid to us largely by the newspapers and magazines—not by the advertiser.

With many small accounts, with great possibilities, we spend ten times our commission in proving them out.

Our profit comes through making the advertising so profitable that it expands. Thus our costly copy department more than pays its way.

It multiplies advertising by making it profitable. It develops the small advertiser into the large one.

It is the cheapest way that we know to get business.

Our Advisory Board.

Our Advisory Board consists of sixteen men, all masters of advertising. Mr. Hopkins is at the head of it. Before this Board comes every important problem submitted to us by present or possible clients.

Here we decide what is possible and what is impossible, and advise those who consult us accordingly.

That service is free to all. And here these sixteen men—all able, all with vast experience—plan our campaigns in conference.

Selling plans, mediums, methods and copy are submitted to full discussion.

In advertising, experience counts for more than ability.

No man, dealing with one line, can grasp the fringe of advertising possibilities.

These sixteen men live in a vortex of advertising.

We handle more advertising, of more different kinds, than any concern in the world.

We conduct more test campaigns, try more schemes, learn more experiences than ever existed in advertising outside of this agency.

And the results are all tabulated.

Thus we know what pays. Thus we avoid mistakes. Thus we bring to each new problem the results of all our experience.

Let Us Prove Our Powers

We seek opportunities rather than appropriations.

We seek the new advertiser with the suitable article which he wants to prove out. An article with possibilities.

We shall not ask you what you expect to spend.

Our plan will be to take up a few mediums, or a few towns, and let the results decide your expenditure.

If we can show you that $1,000 spent brings back $2,000, you will naturally spend all the thousands you can.

Then advertising ceases to be speculation.

There are thousands of new lines which ought to be advertised. We ask a chance to discuss them.

We also seek old advertisers who are already successful.

Advertisers who wish to measure the full of their possibilities.

Advertisers who realize what it may mean to bring a new view-point to bear on their problems.

We take up such advertising, when desired, without disturbing present relations. Let us have a few towns, or a few mediums, while you continue your present work in the balance.

Then let the results in our field decide who gets the advertising.

Such a proposition should be irresistible to the wise business man.

Even though we fail, our brilliant men will give you some new ideas.

If we succeed, we may open up for you—as we have for hundreds—boundless possibilities.

We do succeed, almost invariably, because we don't undertake the impossible.

Your risk is almost nothing.

Please cut out this coupon—now while you think of it. Send it to get our book "Safe Advertising"—a brilliant example of our advertising powers.

Then form your own judgment of what we can do.

A Reminder

To send to Lord & Thomas, Chicago, for their book, "Safe Advertising."
